

Institute for Digital
Health & Innovation

Teleconference Digital Recording Release

Teleconferences are routinely recorded by the Institute for Digital Health & Innovation and are simultaneously telecast live to other healthcare institutions and/or to computer desktops of healthcare professionals.

The recording and slides of this lecture will be considered for internet release by the staff of the Institute for Digital Health & Innovation, and it may be posted on the internet using a password-protected site. If this lecture is posted to the internet, anyone properly registered and using this site may view the recording and slides.

The Institute for Digital Health & Innovation may sell, license, or otherwise distribute this digital recording and slides to third-party vendors as educational content, or to physicians and other medical professions and institutions for training purposes for a nominal fee with no compensation to the presenter.

The Institute for Digital Health & Innovation assumes no responsibility for any unauthorized duplication of the lectures.

Please initial the following:

____ I hereby grant permission to the Institute for Digital Health & Innovation to use this digital recording of my lecture for whatever purpose that it deems appropriate.

____ I attest that this presentation does not infringe any copyright laws or violates any property rights. With the exception of short excerpts from other's works which constitute fair use, my presentation will contain no work from other copyrighted works without a written consent of the copyright holder that includes a release to use said material on the web.

____ I understand that any obligations associated with copyright permissions or consent to use photographs will be my responsibility.

____ Permission has been obtained and is on file with the Institute for Digital Health & Innovation for web release of any patient-identifying photographs.

____ To ensure that the content is still up-to-date, I agree to review the recording of this presentation if indicated by new scientific developments or at least once every three years.

____ I hereby grant permission to the Institute for Digital Health & Innovation to use my slides for this lecture for whatever purpose that it deems appropriate.

Signature: _____ Date: _____

Lecture Title: _____